

Our philosophy

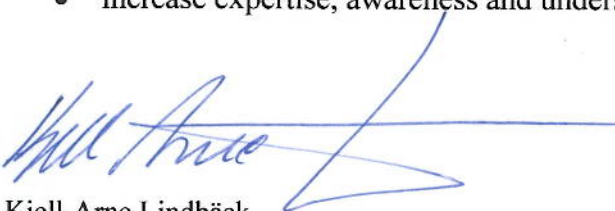

In our company we follow up our traditions. Experience is the core to new knowledge and the driving force behind all progress. Knowledge and skills can never be used up, only refined. Knowledge always leads to new knowledge. Our expertise is the technology of springs, stampings and strip components. Lesjöfors has operated in these fields for a substantial number of years, and our aim is to keep our market leading position. Our major qualities that have made us market leader are;

- high competence
- superior customer service
- cost effective production

Quality and environmental policy

Our ambition is to always deliver top quality products and services with as little environmental impact as possible. To be able to achieve this, we:

- continuously follow up, re-examine and revalue our systems and set goals
- consider and evaluate quality and environmental aspects in the processes we can affect
- introduce continuous improvements at all levels in our businesses
- make arrangements to prevent mistakes and shortcomings
- secure that our business always live up to current law and demands
- increase expertise, awareness and understanding among our staff on a regular basis
